Homemakers Items

The widespread use of new man-made textiles has brought some puzzlers for laundry day.

Home economics specialists at VPI say it is no longer possible to judge by appearance, feel, or even experience how some garments will react in the laundry. Your only reliable basis for intelligent buying is the assurance of the manufacturer in the form of a hang-tag or label.

Here are clarifications on some of the label and hang-tag specifications found on modern garments.

"Completely washable." This garment can be washed in a commercial laundry, or in a home washing machine, in hot water over 160 degrees, with soap or detergent and bleaching agent.

"Fully washable - do not bleach." This garment can be washed in a commercial laundry, or in a home washing machine, in hot water not to exceed 160 degrees, with soap or detergent. Do not use bleaching agents.

"Wash by hand in lukewarm water—do not bleach." This garment must be washed by hand in water not over 105 degrees, with soap or detergent and no bleach. Press with hand iron.

"Dry clean." This garment must be dry-cleaned only.

The home economists explain that "shape retention" means two things —permanent pleats and wrinkle resistance. Permanent pleats can be washed out but must be dripped dry. Wrinkle resistance is important in wearing apparel and in curtains. Fold your glass curtains lightly and wash folded. If you prefer your garments, they will be subjected to sharp wrinkling by twisting during washing, wring to retain their smoothness, and need ironing.

DEPARTMENT ASKS PROTECTION OF SIGNS

With the opening of hunting season, the State Highway Department today appealed to hunters not to damage highway signs.

Road sign vandalism costs automobile users about $72,500 a year in highway revenue, according to a study made by the Virginia Council of Highway Investigation and Research at the University of Virginia.

Shooting is the principal cause of damage to highway signs and accounts for approximately $40,000 of the total. Next in order are scratching, bending, marking and stealing. The Council's report pointed out that one shot at a highway sign may necessitate its replacement at a cost of $9.80 . the equivalent of about a one and one-half cent tax on all the gasoline used by the average motorist in one year.

Although all the shooting at signs is not done by hunters, this type of damage increases during the hunting season. The Council's survey disclosed that 20 per cent of the sign replacements are due to gunshot damage during late winter, spring and summer. This figure, however, jumped to 40 per cent during and following the fall hunting season. Adolescents with rifles account for part of the damage throughout the year.

The greatest damage to highway signs occurs on rural roads where apprehension is least likely. And because 66 per cent of the highway signs are located in open country, important warning signs are three times as likely to be shot as are route markets, destination, and regulatory signs. Sometimes the warning signs are so mutilated that they are illegible and serious acicdents could result.

Damaging public property is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine up to $500 and a maximum of 12 months in jail.

IN FASHION NOW

The one big fashion note destined for success at the social gatherings from Thanksgiving through the New Year is the gleaming and sparkling dress. The style setters state that it is not going to be a casual holiday picture.

A check of the sales across the counter show that women want to dress up and the buyers are certainly in that vein for after-five wear. The brocade or satin shirt-waist-type dinner or cocktail dress is new this year and becoming to all ages. Shoes to match are almost a must unless you prefer a pair of the new clear plastic evening shoes. Plastic heels decorated with rhinestones and other jewels are being used on the plastic shoes and shoes of leather, satin and other fabrics.

Evening jewelry is coming in for a lot of attention — as it always does this time of year. Crystal and rhinestone seem to be about the newest looking. Earrings are again big and showy as possible. Bracelets are often three or four inches wide and can cost a pretty penny. Jeweled combs for mylady's hair are a fashion note, reflecting the new longer hair styles being worn.

Living-at-home fashions always come in for some attention this time of year. One designer of casual clothes from hostess pajamas to the graceful full - skirted floor-length dresses said that these clothes are selling at an all - time high. He said that more and more woman are matching the decor of their home or their particular party mood with exciting entertaining-by-candlelight fashions.

These at-home clothes range in color from pale turquoise, lovely silver-threaded grays to all the tones of red for contrast. One of thees creations would make a perfect Christmas gift for a wife or a lovely daughter.

Party hats are going all out to be as gay and glittering as designers can make them. All kinds and colors of jewels are being used as trim, as well as flowers both real and artificial, sea shells and contrasting fabric.

RECIPES

Fruit Salad Dressing
1-2 cup pineapple juice
1-2 cup orange juice
1-4 cup lime juice
1-4 teaspoon salt
4 egg yolks
3-4 cup sugar
1 cup cream

Place the pineapple juice, orange juice and lime juice in the upper part of a double boiler. Heat over hot water. Beat the egg yolks until thick, add the sugar gradually. Pour a little of the hot juice over the egg yolk, blend and return to double boiler. Stir and cook until the mixture thickens. Chill. When ready to serve, fold in the cream that has been whipped.

Pork Chops with Pineapple
5 double rib pork chops
1 cup drained, crushed, pineapple
3-4 teaspoon salt
